You have the right and responsibility to carefully inspect shipments from any carrier (including UPS, FEDEX, DHL) and sign complete, short or damaged as appropriate. If a discrepancy is found, please have the driver note the exception. If a driver refuses to note the exception, please get his/her name so that the refusal can be reported to the carrier. If a shortage or damage is discovered after you have signed "received complete", please contact the carrier. You have 3 business days in which to report the discrepancy to the carrier. When a shipment is signed as "received complete", Américo has no recourse with the carrier on your behalf.
